

Baby Bird © 2013, Cynthia R. Crossen capo on 5th fret

You won't break my heart, Am
My heart's already broken for you, Am - Dm
Love cracked it open Dm - Am
Like an egg, unwrapping Dm - Am
Something new, E7
A baby bird to sing for me and you, E7 - Dm
A baby bird to sing for me and you. Am - E7

I've fashioned your words into a knife, Am
Stabbed myself in the breast, Am - Dm
Now my heart is jumpin', Dm - Am
Trying to get out Dm - Am
Of my chest, E7
A baby bird that's fledging from her nest, E7 - Dm
A baby bird that's fledging from her nest. Am - E7

I want to untwist your words, F - Am
I want to unwrap your heart, G - F
I want to unhear what you're not tryin' to say to me, Am - G - F Am - E7
And hear that baby bird begin to sing, E7 - Dm
Hear that baby bird begin to sing. Am - E7

You never made a mistake, Am
You never did anything wrong, Am - Dm
Those things you regret Dm - Am
Were just part of the path Dm - Am
You've been on, E7
A baby bird emerging with her song, E7 - Dm
A baby bird emerging Am
With her own song... E7 - Am
